Tentative title or subject of your thesis:

Please attach a typed 3-4 single sided page description of your thesis project. You should clearly define the topic of your thesis, specifying the works you will study and the methods of analysis you will employ. You should give an account of the criticism relating to your subject and justify the usefulness of your approach. Insofar as possible, outline the organizing question and the general argument of the thesis. In addition to this description, please attach an annotated bibliography that lists the primary and secondary texts you expect to use.

PLEASE DO NOT STAPLE.

The prospectus is due to the Undergraduate Program by 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 7, 2015. Before it is submitted, the thesis advisor must approve the prospectus and sign below; a prospectus not read, approved, and signed by your advisor will not be accepted. Another faculty member will then review the prospectus for final approval.

Approved: ________________________________ (advisor’s name, printed)

______________________________ (advisor’s signature)

Date: ________________________________